User Guide

Enterprise Systems and Services
Sept 2009

1. Events Calendar RSS Service

University Events Calendar application provides an RSS feed of events. Events can be downloaded as an RSS feed by accessing the following URL:

<http://ruevents.rutgers.edu/events/getEventsRss.xml>

The feed contains both the standard RSS information (title, description, and link) and additional calendar-specific data. The value of each field is described in detail in Section 3 of this document.

By default, the feed includes hundreds of events based on the following criteria:

- Event must be approved for being posted to Rutgers Calendar of Events
- Event must not have concluded by the current date

Customizing the feed so that it includes events based on more specific criteria is described in Section 4 of this document.

2. RSS Structure

The general structure of the XML document is as follows. Please see Section 3 (Fields within the item tag) for a detailed description of information available about each event.

```
<rss>

  <event:itemCount>...</event:itemCount>

Any combination of these parameters can be added to the URL as query string. Multiple parameters are separated with ampersands. Some examples:
